FORTY-SIXTH REPORT

OF THE

INSPECTOR

OF

REFORMATORY AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS IN IRELAND.

TO THE

RIGHT HON. AUGUSTINE BIRRELL, P.C., M.P., &c.,
CHIEF SECRETARY TO THE LORD LIEUTENANT OF IRELAND.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR OF REFORMATORY
AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS,
DUBLIN CASTLE,
23rd July, 1908.

SIR,

I have the honour to submit to you the Annual Report on the Reformatory and Industrial Schools in Ireland for the year ending 31st December, 1907.

The number of schools under inspection at the beginning of last year was—5 Reformatories and 68 Industrial Schools.

Every school was examined at least once during the year, and one or more surprise visits were made to most of the schools as well.

I have to record the closing of the Girls' School at Oughterard, County Galway, on the 31st December last. The children, who were then under order of detention in the school, were transferred to the three schools, Loughrea, Ballinasloe, and Clifdon, which are situated in the same county, and in which there were large numbers of vacancies. On the same date the number, for which the Boys' School at Killybegs was certified, was increased from 100 to 144.

REFORMATORIES.

At the end of 1907 there were 5 Reformatory Schools in Ireland.

2	for Roman Catholic Boys.
2	Girls.
1	for Protestant Boys.

The number of Roman Catholic and Protestant juveniles under order of detention on 31st December, 1907, was:—

—	Roman Catholic.	Protestant.
Boys,	435	120
Girls,	38	—
Total,	473	120

The number of juveniles on the rolls of Reformatory Schools on the 31st December, 1906, and on the 31st December, 1907, is shown in the following summary:—

—	On 31st December, 1906.			On 31st December, 1907.
	Males.	Females.	Total.	Males.	Females.	Total.
In School,	512	38	550	539	38	577

In School—sentence expired, .	—	—	—	—	—	—
Total,	523	39	562	555	38	593

These numbers show an increase of 32 boys and a decrease of 1 girl as compared with those of the previous year.

ADMISSIONS.

The admissions to Reformatory Schools in 1907 were 156, viz., 141 boys and 15 girls, showing an increase of 14 boys and of 4 girls—a total increase of 18 as compared with 1906.

The following tabular statement gives the numbers admitted for the year 1907, and for each of the preceding ten years:—

YEAR.	BOYS.	GIRLS.	TOTAL.
1897,	157	15	172
1898,	139	10	149
1899,	102	20	122

1904,	116	10	126
1905,	164	7	171
1906,	137	11	148
1907,	141	15	156

The following table gives the number admitted in 1907 into Reformatory Schools from the several Cities and Counties where committals were made:—

Place of Committal.	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
Antrim County,	3	-	3
Belfast City,	23	1	24
Armagh County,	1	-	1
Clare County,	2	-	2

Tipperary South Riding,	1	-	1
Waterford City,	3	-	3
Wexford,	3	-	3
Wicklow,	2	-	2
Total,	141	15	156

From the above summary it is seen that the two cities of Dublin and Belfast sent to Reformatories 95, or 60·89 per cent., of the total number committed.

The following tabular statement shows the offences for which juvenile offenders were committed to Reformatory Schools last year and the number committed for the several offences:—

STATE OF INSTRUCTION ON ADMISSION.

Of the 141 boys admitted last year, 54 could neither read nor write, and 87 could read or read and write imperfectly.

Of the 15 girls admitted, 9 could neither read nor write, and 6 could read or read and write imperfectly.

DISCHARGES.

The discharges from Reformatory Schools in 1907 amounted to 109 boys and 16 girls; total, 125.

They were distributed as follows :—

The results of Reformatory Schools as regards character at the end of 1907 of those discharged during the years 1904, 1905, and 1906 were as follows :—

The total number discharged in those three years, omitting deaths, transfers, and illegal committals, was 418, viz., boys, 382, and girls, 36. Of these 2 had died, viz., 1 boy and 1 girl, leaving 381 boys and 35 girls to be reported upon.

Of the boys—

344 were doing well.

4 were doubtful.

10 had been re-convicted.

22 were unknown.

1 was re-committed to a Reformatory School.

Of the girls—

32 were doing well.

2 were doubtful.

1 had been re-convicted.

The following Table shows the Receipts for Reformatory Schools for the past two years :—

High Park, Dublin,	24·4	21·4
St. Joseph's, Limerick,	24·2	22·9

HEALTH OF INMATES.

It is gratifying to have again to record that the health of the inmates of Reformatory Schools continues to be good. One boy and one girl died last year while under order of detention in these Schools. The cause of death in each case was disease of lungs.

LITERARY TRAINING.

The literary training continues to be very satisfactory in both the boys' and girls' schools. In spite of the neglected state in which most of these young people enter the schools, very few leave without having received a literary training which will enable them to improve their positions in after-life, if they are so desirous.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING.

The industrial training in all the schools is satisfactory. Special attention is given to the subject of Domestic Science in St. Joseph's Reformatory School, Limerick, with the result that the girls trained in the school are easily disposed of and succeed in securing and retaining good places as domestic servants. In the three Reformatory Schools for boys the subjects of agriculture and horticulture receive special attention, and in the Malone and Philipstown Reformatories manual instruction is taught in a satisfactory manner.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

There were 68 Industrial Schools in Ireland at the end of 1907.

They were distributed as follows:—

Boys, Roman Catholic, 19; Protestant, 2.

Girls, Roman Catholic, 43; Protestant, 3.

Mixed for boys and girls, Roman Catholic, 1.

As already stated, the Industrial School for girls at Oughterard was closed on 31st December, 1907, thus leaving 67 Industrial Schools in existence at the beginning of the current year.

The following Table gives the number under order of detention in Industrial Schools on the 31st December, 1906 and 1907.

	On 31st December, 1906.			On 31st December, 1907.
	Males.	Females.	Total.	Males.	Females.	Total.
In School (within number paid for under the Rules),	3,567	4,026	7,593	3,573	3,955	7,528
In School (in excess of the number paid for, or under 6 years of age),	184	260	444	161	291	452
On Licence,	170	146	316	156	138	294
Absconded—sentence unexpired, . .	3	1	4	2	1	3
Remaining in School—sentence expired,	3	12	15	6	7	13
Total,	3,927	4,445	8,372	3,903	4,392	8,295

The foregoing tabular statement shows that the number under order of detention at the end of 1907 was 77 less than at the close of the preceding year. The number of boys had decreased by 24 and the number of girls by 53.

The number of Industrial School children chargeable to the Capitation Grant on 31st December, 1907, was 7,533, or 60 less than at the end of the preceding year.

The following Table shows the number of Roman Catholics and Protestants under order of detention on 31st December, 1907:—

	BOYS.			GIRLS.
	Roman Catholics.	Protestants.	Total.	Roman Catholics.	Protestants.	Total.
In School (within number paid for under the Rules),	3,029	549	3,578	3,624	331	3,955
In School (in excess of the number paid for, or under 6 years of age), .	148	13	161	257	34	291
On Licence,	127	29	156	122	16	138
Absconded—sentence unexpired, . .	2	—	2	—	1	1
Remaining in School—sentence expired, . .	4	2	6	5	2	7
Total,	3,310	593	3,903	4,008	384	4,392

From this Table it appears that 7,818 children were on the rolls of Roman Catholic schools, and 977 on the rolls of Protestant schools, at the close of last year.

ADMISSIONS.

The admissions to Industrial Schools in 1907, omitting transfers and re-committals, were—boys, 619; girls, 600; total, 1,219.

The number admitted last year is 91 below that for 1906. The number of boys decreased by 40 and the number of girls by 51.

The following Table gives the number of children admitted for the year 1907 and for each of the preceding ten years.

The results of Industrial Schools considered with reference to the numbers doing well, doubtful, convicted, and unknown of those discharged in 1904, 1905, and 1906, were as follows:—

The total number discharged in those three years, omitting deaths, transfers, committals to Reformatory Schools, and discharges in cases of illegal committals, was 3,598, viz.:—Boys, 1,718, and girls, 1,880. Of this number 89 had since died, viz., 42 boys and 47 girls. There were left 1,676 boys and 1,833 girls to be reported upon.

Of the 1,676 boys—

1,519 were doing well,
59 were doubtful,
7 had been convicted,
91 were unknown.

Of the 1,833 girls—

1,748 were doing well,

PARENTAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

The amount of parental money collected during the year 1907 is set forth in the following tabular statement:—

—	Reformatories.	Industrial Schools.	Total.
	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
Dublin Metropolitan Police District.	223 7 0	100 10 7	323 17 7
Provinces,	240 5 9	1,003 10 0	1,243 15 9
Total,	472 12 9	1,124 1 1	1,596 13 10

The total amount collected in 1906 was £1,708 17s. 2d., of which sum £494 6s. 2d. was for Reformatory, and £1,214 11s. for Industrial School cases.

There is a decrease of £12 3s. 4d. in the total amount as compared with the previous year. The Industrial School collection shows an increase of £9 10s. 1d. over that of last year, but the amount of the Reformatory collection is less by £21 13s. 5d.

HEALTH.

The number of deaths last year shows a marked decrease as compared with the numbers for some years past. During the past year 53 of the children—22 boys and 31 girls—under order of detention in industrial schools died. In the boys' schools the number of deaths was 13 less, and in the girls' schools 4 less than in 1906. During the year 1907 the number of deaths due to lung disease was 29. In the previous year the number was 40.

As was the case in previous years, tuberculosis heads the list in the mortality return for last year. No doubt many of those children who were victims of tuberculosis had in them at the time of their committal the seeds of the disease, which developed later on. While we cannot at the present time expect to find the schools altogether free from this scourge, managers recognising its dangers should endeavour, by trying efficient preventive treatment, to arrest or stamp out the disease. The main factors that will assist them in this direction are good food, good clothing, and good housing.

There is still much to be desired in most of the boys' schools in the matter of good food. I do not mean to say that there is a deficiency in quantity. The fault lies in the selection and proper cooking of the food. Instances have come under my observation where good food spoiled in the preparation so far from doing any good did positive mischief.

More attention on the part of managers in choosing capable persons to superintend the selection, preparing, and cooking of the food will materially contribute to the better health and general well-being of the children under their care.

The question of clothing, more especially in winter, is one to which sufficient attention is not given. It is a fact that children too readily part with their heat, and accordingly in cold weather they are liable to suffer in health unless they are well clothed and supplied with sufficient heat-giving food.

Considering the fine structures provided in most of the schools for the accommodation of the children, it might be expected that there should be no cause for complaint as regards the housing of the inmates. A better system of heating and ventilation is, however, much needed in some of the institutions. In schools where I met with defects of this nature, I drew the attention of the managers to them, and hope to see the remedies I suggested soon carried out.

It is very desirable that the boys should get, in the course of their training, a general knowledge of the laws relating to food and hygiene. I am pleased to have to say that in the girls' schools much attention is devoted to these important subjects, and that the girls acquire a good sound knowledge of them before they leave school.

LITERARY TRAINING.

During the past year the literary training of the children has made very satisfactory progress and continues to be highly efficient.

Reading is generally good, but the amount prepared, particularly in the lower standards, is too small in many cases. I have met with cases of children who seemed to be reading correctly and fluently, but on investigation I found that their books were not open at the right page, the lesson having been learned by rote, and of course the lesson had ceased to be a lesson in reading and had become a mere effort of memory. In the senior standards this error is avoided, as each standard has generally at least two readers, one of them, in girls' schools, being almost always on the subjects of domestic economy.

Dictation is generally fairly good in the senior standards, but not so good in the junior standards. Oral spelling in the junior standards is generally very good.

Writing is almost always very well taught, but care should be taken that the children are not allowed to scribble too carelessly on the "jotters" that are now taking the place of slates in most schools, otherwise the discarding of slates may do more harm than good.

Arithmetic is on the whole well taught, and is put to a practical use by the senior girls when making out the bill of fare for the day, and in writing out the cost of cheap meals or the economic spending of a workman's weekly wages.

Geography and grammar are fairly well taught, the local geography of each school being now usually given as the first lesson in this subject instead of the geography of the world, which was difficult for a young child to realise.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING.

The industrial training in the girls' schools is of the highest order, and is well adapted for preparing the children for the positions they will take up in afterlife. The children are well taught, both in theory and practice, all the subjects embraced in the syllabus of Domestic Science, so that when they leave school they go out intelligent and capable workers, able to earn their own livelihood, and are sure to affect for good those with whom they may be associated.

In the boys' schools the different trades have been well taught as heretofore, and the subjects of manual instruction and agriculture are receiving careful attention. A larger number of boys are now being trained in these subjects than formerly.

To show the importance which I attach to the training of young girls in all the subjects embraced in the study of Domestic Science, and with a hope that a healthy rivalry will stimulate both the teachers to impart, and the children to acquire, the knowledge of the subjects best suited to the class of children in the schools, I have offered a prize to be competed for every three years.

The award will be made to the school which, for the three years preceding the competition, will be found to have the best record for general excellence in everything connected with the subject of Domestic Science.

By general excellence is meant (1) the possession of thoroughly equipped departments, simple but complete in every detail, for the practical training of the children in the courses prescribed in the syllabus of Domestic Science; (2), the presence of a capable and zealous acting manager who controls a good staff of teachers and inspires them and the children with a love for their work; who sees that practical efficiency is gained by intelligent training, and succeeds in creating an atmosphere conducive to acquiring an intelligent, practical, commonsense knowledge of the subjects taught, and who gives special attention to the training of backward and dull children and makes all feel as if they were living under good home influence.

At the end of each year the Inspector and Assistant Inspector will confer, for the purpose of determining the degree of merit shown by each school in that year, and will note the result of their inquiry. Six months preceding the award they will select the schools that stand out prominently for excellent work up to that period, and from those after careful scrutiny and examination, they will choose the successful school.

For the first award of the Challenge Shield for Domestic Science the rules which are to govern future competitions could not be accurately observed. There were five schools in the final round of the examination, and to the four schools of this list who failed to gain the shield, Her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen, who takes a deep interest in the training of the young girls in these schools graciously presented silver medals.

The presentation took place at the Viceregal Lodge, where a number of the children appeared to receive from Her Excellency's hands the shield and medals.

The following is the result of the competition :—

When the girls' schools were being examined for the purpose of awarding the Challenge Shield in Domestic Science, it seemed a suitable time that a classification of all the schools should again be made. It is now four years since the schools were classified, and it gives me great pleasure to be able to report that marked improvement has been made in the interval by many schools, as may be seen from the much larger number of schools which I now feel justified in placing in the first-class than in 1903. As on that occasion, the schools are arranged in groups, the schools in each group being placed in alphabetical order. The chief points, by which I was guided in making this classification, were not only the smartness and intelligence of the children and their healthy and neat appearance, but the general atmosphere of order and industry which I observed in the schools, and the suitability of the schools as places for the training of children, having regard to the staff of teachers provided, and the courses of instruction arranged for their literary, physical, and industrial development.
